

Baseball war and politics crammed front pages in Michigan this week. There'll be another world series next year, but no second chance in Korea.

Now it can be told. This year saw the biggest primary turnout (800,000 voters) since 1940. What would happen to baseball if spectator participation reflected such apathy.

But the coming election will get its share of news space in the next month. Both sides are lining up for a slugfest, with the G. O. P. recognizing the heavy Democratic turnout as a call to arms. Both major parties are treading lightly. An error now might reveal a chink in political armor for the opposition to hammer.

When the new state legislature convenes January 1, it will again take time for them to get acquainted. There will be 42 changes.

Sure sign that fall has arrived is the return of children to school—and a lessening of the now annual polio epidemic. Experts report a "better year" in combating the crippling disease.

Housewives are getting a surprise now that chilly, wind-blown weather is back. While they served cold cuts and potato salad this summer, roasts, chops and even poultry jumped a few cents in price. And eggs are going up even faster despite the fact that the U. S. Grade A egg production in August was the highest on record for the month.

But sugar may go down, officials in the industry state. U. S. European and Cuban crops were highest on record this year. Many a housewife may find herself sweeping around that 50-pound sack in the basement.

Farmers also are coming into the state spotlight over the oleo referendum this fall. The fight for ready-colored margarine has raged for a year now. Both dairy and margarine interests are confident of a victory—both are beating the bushes in these last weeks before the people decide the issue for them.

Since the Korean war has taken a turn for the better, the news that half of the Michigan men called for ready-colored examinations have been rejected is not so disheartening. Of 18,884 examined, 9,502 were rejected.

Relief for those inducted—draftees and recruits can forget their bills. While in the service not even income tax evasion can be prosecuted and the serviceman's family cannot be evicted for nonpayment of rent without a special court order.

But if the serviceman gets to Korea he may miss out on his beer ration—at least if the Temperance League of America has its way. This group recommends giving the combat boys fruit juice and soft drinks instead.

While more profit taxes are doomed in Washington, the echo can be heard in Michigan. State Controller Robert F. Stedman says the state had a $45,673,724 operating deficit during the fiscal year ending June 30. He says that only by new taxes can the state overcome the deficit position.

But Michiganders are saving their money. At least bank deposits are up. Statewide deposits were up five per cent last year making a total of more than five billion dollars as of last December.

War officially has come to Michigan's industry now. Ford and Cadillac have announced they now have war contracts—first large contracts to be let in the state.

Group Meets On Proposed Hospital

About 25 Grayling men and women met Monday evening at the Grayling Masonic Hall to discuss the proposed new Grayling Mercy Hospital and the possibility of raising a local fund of $75,000 to purchase the new medical equipment needed.

Charles E. Moore served as chairman of the meeting and read several letters which told of the assurance of $300,000 from the Federal Government for construction of the new 60 bed establishment. Another letter told that an assumed individual or trust fund was prepared to donate the other $300,000 for construction and that all that was needed was $75,000 from the area served by the hospital for equipment to get the project underway.

Dr. B. E. Henig spoke briefly on his experiences as the project moved toward fulfillment. This was followed by a long discussion period which left no doubt as to the feelings of those in attendance. With action in Circuit Court at this time to close the present hospital, everyone at the meeting felt that Grayling should do everything possible to make the funds available to keep the Grayling Mercy Hospital here.

The next move by the group will be the selection of a chairman and the formation of a committee to progress with the local end of the project.

Melvin E. Marshall Killed In Korean War

Crawford County's First Casualty In U. N. Action

Melvin E. Marshall, 18, son of Melvin J. Marshall, of Grayling, and Mrs. Edna Wiseman, Spokane, Washington, is the first Crawford County youth to be killed in action in the Korean war.

His father received word of his death late Thursday night in a telegram from the Department of Defense at Washington. It stated that young Marshall was killed on September 4 in Korea.

Melvin was born in Cheboygan on May 30, 1932, and with his parents came to Grayling, where he had resided most of his life.

Young Marshall entered the armed services at the age of 15 years and 7 months and received his first training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He spent 15 months of service on Okinawa.

A graduate Paratrooper, he took his training at Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Benning Ga., and then served in Okinawa.

While at Fort Benning he was injured in a crash landing and spent three months in a hospital. After a furlough spent in Grayling he departed from Washington State on July 25. The next and only word his father had was on August 29, when he wrote that he was in Korea.

Because he was not needed as a paratrooper he was serving in a tank battalion at the time he was killed.

He is survived by his parents; three sisters, Julia Ann, Camilla, and Kathleen Marshall; his grandmother, Mrs. Martha Marshall, of

Vikings At Mancelona Tomorrow Night. Lose To Charlevoix

Under Light Game Expected, Tough

The Grayling High Vikings travel to Mancelona tomorrow night to meet Mancelona in the first of two night football games scheduled for this fall. It will be the first game under light for the Grayling squad who are expected to give the Mancelona team a real battle.

Mancelona after dropping their opener to Onaway, 2 to 0, came back last week to down the Blue Devils of Gaylord by a 20 to 6 score and give indications of being a rough and tough eleven. Grayling though defeated 33 to 6 by the Charlevoix Rayders here last Friday showed that they had improved as almost the same team last year defeated the Vikings 45 to 0.

The Rayders made 15 first downs to Grayling's 1 and ran for 447 yards while the Vikings totaled only 119 yards by rushing. Charlevoix gained 44 yards through the air as they completed 2 passes out of 7 attempts. Grayling passed 9 times and completed 2 for 19 yards. The Rayders were not forced to punt at all but Grayling quick kicking from a T formation booted 3 for a total of 186 yards as the ball sailed over the head of the Rayder safety man. Two Viking boots were blocked. Charlevoix fumbled 3 times to the local's 1 and each team intercepted one of their opponents passes.

Jim McClain, Viking halfback grabbed a misdirected Rayder pass in the last quarter and ran it back 65 yards to pay dirt. An attempted line back for the extra point by Fullback Bill Worden failed by about 1 or 2 inches. The Rayders scored once in every quarter and twice in the final period with one coming from an intercepted Grayling aerial.

The Vikings were seriously handicapped by the lack of experienced ends as Skip Hanson was forced from the game on the third play with a severely sprained ankle which will keep him sidelined for about 10 days. John Goss, the other Viking end was in and out of the ball game due to a knee injury. Freshman Pete Millikin, who took Hanson's place placed turned in a bangup game although this was his first year. The 175 pound freshman was in for the full game and showed that he was in tip top condition. The Rayders found it hard to make yardage around that side of the line as Millikin piled up interference and knived through for repeated tackles of the ball carrier. This week's workout in getting ready to meet the Ironmen tomorrow night will not include much heavy scrimmage, Viking mentor Bruce Smith said, as his team was already suffering from too many injuries. Practice sessions will be utilized to smooth out the Viking offense and spark up the defensive play of the Grayling team. Although a hard battle is predicted for tomorrow night Coach Smith felt that the Vikings had a better than even chance to come home with a win under their belt.

Is Taxation Beyond Regulation?

In New York State recently, the Public Service Commission warned in its annual report that if the operating costs of public utilities continues to soar, "no act of this commission can preserve either the regulated company or the public from serious injury."

The report went on to say that since 1947 "the inflationary tide had finally engulfed the utilities," and the companies could no longer absorb the increasing costs of operation as they had in the last six years. Looking to the future, the commission said that if "prices, wages and taxes, especially Federal and local municipal levies, which have been a heavy burden upon utilities and ultimately upon the consumer, resume an upward trend, the utility rate will be aggravated."

The significance of this warning should be obvious to all. It is a frank confession that mere regulation cannot restrain inflation. What the New York State Public Service Commission has encountered will some time have to be faced and recognized by the Federal Government as well as the people. Even the most ruthless tactics of a police state are futile when pitted against natural economic forces. And that is the kind of a state that even a republic like the United States begins to drift toward once price-fixing becomes a substitute for budget balancing. It would not make a particle of difference who runs industry, government or private citizens. The political managers of nationalized industry may be able to temporarily pass taxes along and thus hide real costs as long as there are enough taxpayers to carry the load. But there is no magic in outright public ownership any more than there is in the regulatory ability of a Public Service Commission. When a government follows a course that results in depreciating money there is no escaping the consequences. The sooner that fact is faced the sooner will a new level of political honesty appear in the administration of government.

FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

September 23, 1927

The big lumber mill of Salling Hanson Company ended nearly fifty years of service last Thursday when the last log passed up the skids and through the saws. In 50 years of lumbering operations the Hanson interests have cut several billion feet of timber. When lumbering was at its height three sawmills were working day and night. In 1914 the first mill shut down. Its site is now the Grayling Golf Club. Not long afterward the T. Town mill was abandoned. Last year Rasmus Hanson gave the land adjacent to town to the Michigan National Guard for a landing field for the air service. The firm of Salling Hanson cut the first pine in a 20 mile stretch along the Manistee River. The logs were floated to the town where they were put through the sawmills and shipped in schooners to Chicago. The first cargo of white pine sold for $7.50 per 1,000 feet. The people of Grayling are sorry to lose the old mill and the prosperity that comes from it. The silencing of the mill whistle seems like losing an old friend. It has called the men to work for nearly half a century. Mr. Hanson now is hopeful that the Grayling Development Company in which he is a principal stockholder will strike oil and then once again Grayling is destined to be one of the thriving communities of the north, an honor she has held ever since its inception.

New Use
For Old Windmills

I drove past Larson's farm last week and saw him perched on top of his 75-year-old windmill. "Still planning on tearing it down?" I shouted up to him.

"Not on your life," says Curly as he climbs down. "I'm getting myself a television set from Buzz Ellis' and he says this windmill is going to come in mighty handy."

"You see," Curly went on, "I'm going to put my TV antenna right on top of it. Since the windmill is higher than the house, I'll get the best reception around here—but if it wasn't for Buzz and his advice, I'd have scrapped it."

From where I sit, Curly's success as a farmer and his popularity in town is due, in a large part, to his open-mindedness and his willingness to listen to people and their opinions. He'll listen to Buzz Ellis over a malted milk or he and I can talk politics—each with a glass of temperate beer. Yes, Curly's as modern as television itself!

Just sharpen your pencil—and there you are!

ACROSS this broad land there are thousands of people who have been doing themselves a disfavor.

Seems they "just naturally assume" a Buick is beyond their reach—and so pass up the car they're really itching to own.

Now why "assume" anything as important to your happiness as a new car?

Why not see for yourself how delivered prices run—how close Buick matches your own budget—how frequently it is priced under some cars you may be considering?

Then—if there is a particular car in mind—sharpen up your pencil a little.

Is it a six—or an eight, like Buick? If an eight, is it a valve-in-head eight? That adds a plus in efficiency, you know, even without the extra edge of Buick's Fireball power.

Will you ride on four soft coil springs, as in Buick—or on only two? Will the drive be through a sealed torque-tube that keeps the rear wheel assembly firmly aligned? It is in a Buick.

Do you get soft, low-pressure tires as part of the price—or as extras? Will you have bumper guards built as part of the bumper, or a one-piece cast metal grille that can be costly to repair or replace?

Does the price include air cleaner; oil filter; dual horns, windshield wipers and sun visors; an automatic dome light; self-locking luggage lid; a single key for all locks?

And is there an automatic drive*, or one in which gears still shift in normal driving?

Yes, sharpen your pencil—and there you will be, in a Buick.

Whether it's a SPECIAL, a SUPER or a lordly ROADMASTER, you'll be driving the big buy of its price class, and getting a rich bonus of driving comfort, driving thrill and "fashion-first" styling.

But you have to make the first move. You are the one who has to find out. How about starting now—with a call on your Buick dealer?

SHORT STORY

Cordially
Disliked

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

I HAVE NEVER known a man to be more wholeheartedly disliked than Henry Spafford. The reason for it is his braggartly qualities, his overbearing sense of importance.

We tolerate him because we like his wife, Madge, but even so our toleration is a chore. The other night I was over to the Spafford's and sat through an hour of Henry's bragging. It seems that the big boss in New York—Henry is employed by the Jason Reid Steamship Company—called up the Philadelphia office where Henry works and Henry answered the phone.

"Jay's a great guy," Henry told me, referring to the incident. "He's asked me to run up to New York to see him a couple of times. I must remember to do that."

"Who's Jay?" I asked.

"Jay?" Why, Jason Reid, who owns this line, of course."

"Oh," I said.

"The way to get along in any business," Henry went on, "is to let the boss know right off he can depend on you. That's the way I am with Jay."

I left the Spafford home an hour later, furious that I had stayed so long, pitying Madge and disliking Henry with a renewed sense of disgust. "Something," I told Betty, my wife, "ought to be done about that punk. Now he's calling Old Man Reid, Jay."

"The thing to do," Betty smiled, "is to be amused at his ravings, not annoyed. He doesn't hurt any one, and there's always Madge to think of."

"Even Madge," I replied, "won't keep me from hitting that guy one of these days. Something," I repeated, "ought to be done about him."

Whether or not my thinking about it had anything to do with what happened a couple of days later I will never know. Henry was fired. Without warning or explanation he was given a couple of weeks' pay and was bounced out on his ear.

My first reaction when Betty told me about it was one of exuberance, a fiendish desire to rush over there and gloat, to sneer: "I told you so! Why don't you call up your friend, Jay, wise guy?" But this feeling passed immediately. Curiously it was followed by one of pity. The more I thought about it the deeper became my sympathy. What greater humiliation, I thought, could a man endure than this that confronted Henry Spafford?

NEXT DAY I called Hal Wheaton and asked him to have lunch

Bow Season Opens On Deer Next Sunday

Michigan big game hunting gets underway October 1 with an estimated 12,000-14,000 sportsmen hoping to bag deer in a 36-day season which calls for arrows and not bullets.

While 12,689 persons purchased bow and arrow hunting licenses last season, conservation department game officials refuse to further hazard a guess on the possible effect of the war situation in holding down an increase in the Robin-hood-style army. However, the number of bow and arrow deer hunters regularly has increased in the last few years. As recently as 1945 only 1,800 entered the field.

More deer than the Michigan range safely can carry through the winter are around for the patient and skillful bowmen to stalk, notes I. H. Bartlett, department deer specialist. And a growing army of archers are becoming more successful, he says. Records show that in 1947 only one in 20 set a deer the hard way, in 1948 one in 17 and last year as high as one out of every 14 returned home with venison.

Approximately 70 per cent of the archers last season limited their stalking range to a half-dozen counties. Highest hunter concentrations were recorded in Roscommon, Allegan, Crawford, Oscoda, Isosco and Montmorency counties. These counties accounted for roughly 80 per cent of the 378 deer harvested via the bow and arrow method in 1949.

Deer of either sex may be taken October 1-November 5 in every county in the state except Keweenaw, Houghton, Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Chippewa save Drummond Island, Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Kalkaska, Missaukee, Ogemaw, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac and northern parts of Bay and Huron Counties. In the counties specifically mentioned, male deer with three-inch antlers or over are legal targets only. Deer of either sex may continue to be hunted with bow and arrow through December 15 in Allegan County.

Any archer who does not get his legal limit of one deer in any of the bow seasons is eligible to purchase a gun license to hunt in the general firearm season November 15-30.

Resident bow and arrow deer and bear license again is $3.50 as is the resident firearm deer and bear license. Nonresidents will continue to pay $10 for a bow and arrow and $35 for a firearm license.

Bow hunters wanting to look over last season's deer hunting data can get "dope sheets" with state hunting map outline from the department's game division.

For the downstate Robinhood who wants a place to hunt not too far from home, there is over 175,000 acres of state-owned land, mostly forest, game and recreation area acreage, open which is fair to good hunting territory. For the majority of bow hunters who are able to go north, over 5,900,000 acres of mainly national and state forest lands are open to public bow hunting.

County Deer Herd Found Larger

Annual deer census drive made by 4-H club members in cooperation with the conservation department produced more deer than in any year since it was started in 1943.

Members counted 86 deer on one square mile in southwestern Crawford county. Department deer expert, I. H. Bartlett, says this regularly sampled area is considered representative of better deer country in the northern lower peninsula.

No drives were made in 1949 and 1948 but in 1947 the census produced 86 animals. Thirty-two deer were driven through the area in 1946, 41 in 1945, 44 in 1944 and 19 in 1943.

Mary Martha Circle of Michigan Memorial Church held a meeting on September 19 with 27 members and 1 guest present. Mrs. John Erkes had charge of devotionals and Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. A. Doner and Mrs. C. Richardson the refreshments.

October 25-31 has been designated as a week of prayer and self denial. There will be special services for the ladies Sunday evening October 29.

A family potluck is scheduled for October 11 including the Sunday school. There will be a missionary speaker.

"Don't be annoyed at his ravings. He doesn't hurt anyone, and there's Madge to think of."

"Have you heard about Henry?" I asked when we were seated. Hal nodded, avoiding my eyes. "I met the poor devil on the street this morning. I don't mind saying that it was an ordeal."

I thoughtfully lighted a cigaret. "Hal," I said, "think of Madge. Isn't there something we can do?"

"Well," said Hal, "I've been wondering, too. Poor Madge." He coughed. "I called Bob Taylor of the Taylor Lines" this morning. Bob says that he might be able to do something for Henry on our recommendation."

"I guess," I grinned, "that's the answer."

And it was. Henry and Madge were over three days later. "I understand you've got a new job?" I remarked to Henry.

"Yes," he said with a bored look on his face. "Bob Taylor called up as soon as he heard that I was free, and asked if I'd consider a position with him. Well, you know when a man offers you more money—"

I glanced at Betty. There was a faint smile on her face. I suppose she was amused. I hope so. Because an hour later, with Henry still blowing, I was mad enough to choke him, and almost did.

Jack Perry Award U. of M. Degree

Graduates of the University of Michigan at the close of the Summer Session will receive their diplomas by mail.

Ten of the University's 14 schools and colleges have listed 1,352 graduates who completed their studies late in August. These are the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, Graduate School, College of Engineering, College of Architecture and Design, School of Education, School of Public Health, College of Pharmacy, School of Business Administration, School of Music, and Law School. The Schools of Medicine, Dentistry, and Nursing did not have summer graduates. Graduates of the School of Natural Resources will be announced later because of the late closing of the forestry summer camp session.

"Cloak And Dagger" Boys Well Hidden

The "cloak and dagger boys" of World War II, still scattered around Michigan, learned how to conceal their identity.

In fact, they learned that lesson too well, according to Nicholas V. Olds, president of the Michigan Out-Of-State Chapter of the Veterans of the Office of Strategic Services. Olds is trying to round them up for a meeting in Lansing September 30 when men recently returned from Korea and China will speak.

Many members of the OSS are unknown to each other but a start is being made in the organization of chapters at the behest of Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan who commanded the OSS in wartime.

Olds is assistant attorney general.

Educational programs will be conducted in the schools previous to the tests. This will include films, bulletins, quiz material, etc., on the ear and its functions.

Hearing loss is wide spread. There are 32,000 elementary school children in Michigan with hearing losses. Seven thousand of these are unable to hear adequately what the teacher says in the classroom. Each year 5,000 children develop handicapping hearing loss. Science has shown that much hearing loss can be prevented by prompt and early medical attention to ear disorders.

Point Out Advantages In Voluntary Enlisting

It was announced today by Douglas A. Anderson, Sergeant in charge of the Traverse City Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, that all young men should investigate the advantages of a voluntary enlistment in either the U. S. Army or U. S. Air Force. Current Selective Service regulations state that anyone receiving their notice to report for pre-induction physical examination cannot enlist in any branch of the armed forces. The U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting for this area is located at 122 1/2 East Front Street, Traverse City and is open from 8 A. M. till 9 P. M. daily.

The last scheduled shipment of Air Force applicants was on Tuesday, the 26th of September, 1950 and all interested young men should apply now. To date there has been no change in the regulations governing the enlistment of married men, they still are not acceptable. Any change in these regulations will be published immediately.

Cold weather is not too far away. Now is the time to insulate your home for savings this Winter in fuel bills and for the utmost comfort and healthfulness in your home. See us today for

Homemakers' Hints

by Pat Morley

Today, a surprising number of homemakers are finding the way to have comfortable, really attractive homes at lower cost. The answer? The roomy old farmhouses just outside of town . . . the cottages at nearby lakes that can be bought for very little. A little ingenuity —a wall knocked out here, new paint there—turns these bargains into beautiful year-round homes. First consideration, however, should be the right working equipment for the home—a convenient kitchen and bathroom, electricity, of course, and the right heating equipment. Many homemakers are discovering a new fuel oil heater that may be placed right in the living room—matching other furniture designs—and heating the entire home inexpensively and very efficiently.

The heater is called Duo-Therm . . . giving thrifty, clean and work-saving oil heat in homes without basements or central heating plants. It has a Power-Air Blower which circulates heat throughout the rooms and a thermostatic control for heat regulation. One reason why this efficient heater is so popular is that it's designed just like fine furniture. There are Sheraton and Hepplewhite and Chippendale models for traditional rooms . . . and smart blond designs for modern rooms, each of them actually resembling a smart looking console.

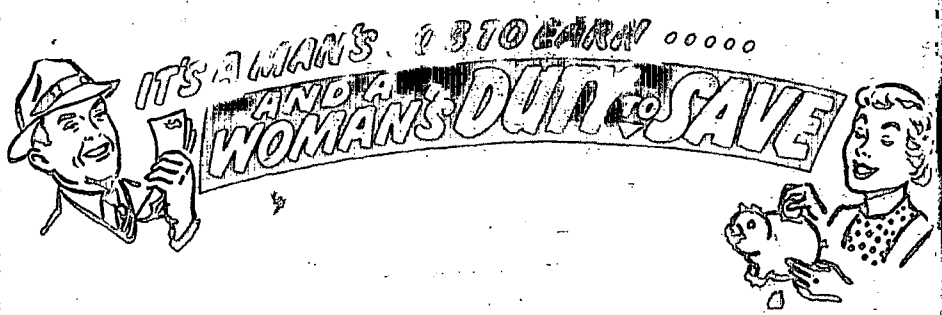

There are styles for every purpose—for warm heating comfort in a trailer or a six-room house. No wonder so many homemakers—both in the city and in the country—are depending upon this economical, really thrifty way to warm homes in winter!
